REAFFIRMS MONROE DOCTRINE.

"Be it Resolved, That the United States of America reaffirms and confirms the doctrine and principles promulgated by President Monroe in message of December 2, 1823, and declares that it will assert and maintain the doctrine and those principles, and will regard any infringement thereof, and particularly any attempt by any European power to take or acquire any new or additional territory on the Amer-ican continent, or any island adjacent thereto, or any right of sovereignty or dominion in the same, in any case or instance as to which the United States shall deem such attempt to be dangerous to its peace or safety, by or through force, purchase, cession, occupation, colonization, protectorate or by control of the easement in any canal, or any other means of transit across the American isthmus, whether under unfounded pretension of right in cases of alleged boundary disputes, or under any other unfounded pretensions, as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States, and as an interposition which it would be impossible, in any form, for the United States to regard with indifference."

The concurrent resolution was placed on the calendar, Mr. Gray, dem., of Delaware, a member of the committee or foreign relations, stating that the report was not a unanimous one.

A FAREWELL TOUR.

Leave the States-To Visit Large Cities First-Still in the Dark as to General Booth's Intentions.

New York, Jam 20 .- Commander Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army, and his wife, who have been ordered by General Booth in London to relinquish their command in this country, Headquarters in Fourteenth street this

"We have been very greatly misrepresented by rumor and some of the papers," said Commander Booth to the New York Evening Sun. Then he briefly outlined the military discipline of the Salvation Army, which made it as necessary that the commander should unquestioningly obey his general as that the private should rever ence the commander. He said that neither he nor his wife had for an instant considered the question of objectng to report at London, as commanded. "We shall leave America in about nine weeks," he continued, "and our preparations are already well under way. We expect to visit, before sailing, every large center in the land and bid farewell to all our kind friends in the places where we have known them." The commander was asked whether the visit of his brother, Commander Herbert Booth of Canada, to this city last week had any bearing upon the matter of his own departure.

"No," he answered, "and you must say that Herbert and I have had no quarrel, as was reported," "Herbert," put in Mrs. Booth, "was our guest during his entire stay in New

"The rumor that New York is likely to become international headquarters," said the commander, "is, to the best of my knowledge, utterly without foun-dation. It originated, I hear, with Brigadier Sully out in Kansas, but I hardly think he would be apprised of such an intention before me.

"Of course, I cannot say whether my recall will have any effect on my rank believe it implies a promotion, and should not like to think it meant anything else. As for my wife, I may safely say that I know it can mean no lowring of her rank."

The commander went on to say that nothing but silence had come from London since the first order. "To fare-well." A letter has been dispatched to General Booth setting forth the conditions existing in the United States, and seeking further particulars about the recall, but it has elicited no response. A fetter or a cablegram is daily expected to arrive and throw light upon the subject.

Another statement was also given out, signed in autograph. The statement follows:

"We desire to make publicly known that when the reports of our farewell first reached the American press we had then received but very scanty information from International Headquarters, London, Hence we were not in a position to give any lengthened explanation. Eyen now we have but very meagre news, and are waiting a return mail bringing an official reply o our dispatch to them.

"The orders to relinquish our comnand are in accordance with the discibline of the organization, it being of a strictly military character. We learn that other territorial leaders are.

also being changed. "In pursuance, therefore, of military obedience, regardless of our own feelings, we are proceeding to put all in preparation, such as business and official matters that have been in our hands, that our successors may find as little difficulty as possible upon assuming their command. "We are communicating with our many auxiliaries and friends (in addition to addressing letters to officers and soldiers), assuring them that nothing would cause us more distress and sor-row than the thought that they won't cease to help and support with their sympathy, influence and money our brave and faithful officers and troops.

"We have not at present had the slightest official information as to who our successors will be, but it is needless to add that in the appointment of them the International Headquarters will consider the value and breadth of the army field here and the unprecedented opportunity that at this juncture of the work lies before us.

"As yet no other command has been offered us, and we have at present no idea what will be done in that mat-

"Those who know us throughout the land will, we are confident, need no assurance that our love for America, its people, and its interests will never wane. We are with you in feeling. thought and affection and shall ever

"We must here record an expression of tribute to our faithful, hardworking through darkest storm and flercest battle. Our mutual love and confidence ineach other has made the family feeling run side by side with the military discipline. It is natural that they and we should feel the separation. We can assure the American public emphatically that they are worthy of all help, confidence and respect.

of a Former Noted New Haven Manufac

The leaders of the Autonomist party

called upon General Martinez Campos

Mrs. Caroline E. Hoadly, one of the idest and most respected residents of this city, died early yesterday morning at her home, the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Caroline H. Guernsey, 169 Davennort avenue. Mrs. Hoadly was the widow of Hervey S. Hoadly, who nearly fifty years ago was one of the most prominent and influential business men in New Haven. He was engaged in a large carriage business both here and in the south, and was regarded as one the most successful and public-spirited men of his time. He died in the prime of life, at the of forty-eight years,

Mrs. Hoadly was born on January 12, 1807, in Berlin, Conn., and had just passed the eighty-ninth aniversary her birthday only a week ago. For the past five years she had been failing, but her final sickness lasted only a few days. Death came peacefully and pain-lessly at 4:20 o'clock yesterday morning to crown a life full of years and use and efficient staff of officers. We have fulness and love. Her sweet, uncom-watched them grow up around us plaining disposition and her boundless love and charity endeared her to all. Her love and devotion to her fellowbeings were surpassed only by her faith and trust in God.

Years ago Mrs. Hoadly was an attendant at the old Third Congregational church and upon the union of this church and the old North church she became a member of the United church. Owing, however, to her advanced years and poor health she had been unable to attend services for some years past. She resided for many years in the old family homestead on Water street, then a fine residential section of the city. Her marriage to Mr. Hoadly occurred in Berlin, on October 29, 1840. She was a daughter of James Guernsey of Berlin, who came to Connecticut from Vermont, and whose ances as were among the first colonists who came to this country. She leaves two children, Mrs. Caroline H. Guernsey and Hervey S. Hoadly, and two grandchildren, Henry H. Guernsey and James H. Guernsey.

In Honor of Miles. Washington, Jan. 20 .- Mr. Hardy of Indiana offered in the house to-day resolution looking to the recognition of the services of General Nelson A Miles. The resolution revives the grade of lieutenant general, in order to recog-nize the distinguished services of Gensively bishop of Chalons, Arras and Tours. He was the author of a number eral Miles, and the law reviving the grade is to expire on the retirement of General Miles. Mr. Hardy, in speaking of this proposition, thought that the The Annual Six-Day Shirt Sale has special recognition should be accorded struck the city. Read Mailey, Neely & General Miles in recognition of the volunteer soldier.

Havana, Jan. 20 .- The ratiroad across the island of Cuba, having for its termini Havana on the north and Batabano on the south, was opened yesterday. The correspondent of the United Press was one of the passengers on the first train to run over the road. At all the stations along the line the residents had assembled and greeted the train upon its arrival with much enthusiasm. At Bejucal the station building was ound in ruins, and considerable other property there had been burned. The ompany estimate their loss at $50,000. The station at Quivican was also found to have been destroyed by fire Each of the trains run over the line is preceded by a pilot locomotive, and each carries a heavy guard of soldiers.

An important encounter between reb-els and a detachment of government troops is reported to have occurred near San Felipe yesterday. Two of the sol-diers who were wounded in the encounter were brought here. Eleven rebels are reported to have been killed. Five prisoners, two of whom were Spanish soldiers, who had deserted were brought ere. They were still wearing the uniform of the Spanish army when they were captured, and they will probably be shot. The train also brought a number of sick and wounded Spanish soldiers from the south coast of the island. The insurgent leader, Macco, with his mmand, is said to be west of Quivican. It is reported here that General Weyler is coming from Spain with additional reinforcements of troops.

General Sabos Marin is going to Porto Rico to succeed General Gamir, who Ged of fever yesterday. General Pando
